PLACED IN A WHEEL CHAIR. As soon as the train came to a stop, Mrs. Roosevelt boarded it, followed by the Cabinet officers and others who had come to welcome the President home. They remained aboard for fifteen minutes chatting with the President before he was removed from the car. The President extended a happy greeting to several persons whom he recognized as he was being wheeled to the carriage. He was attired as usual except that the shoe on the left foot was off. He remarked to a crowd of officers and trainmen that he felt better than he looked. He apparently suffered no pain from the wound in his leg. As he was lifted into the carriage he was given several hearty rounds of applause by the bystanders. Mrs. Roosevelt already had taken her place in the vehicle and they were driven home. Here the President was assisted by the attendants to an ordinary cane seat chair placed on the pavement. Then a half dozen ushers and policemen carried him to his room on the second floor of his temporary This floor contains three large rooms and a hall room, with a bath at the extreme rear. The room fronting on Lafayette Square had been made into a sitting room and the other two into bedrooms. The President was taken to the second room from the front and made comfortable. They reported the President to be resting comfortably.

"The President's physicians report that he stood the trip home very well, and it is believed the local inflammatory symptoms will subside in a week or ten days, if the leg is kept absolutely at rest." So satisfactory is the President's condition that it was not deemed necessary to have even the services of a trained nurse during the night. Attorney General Knox called during the evening and remained for some time. When he came down stairs he reported that when the President was not chatting with Mrs. Roosevelt, he was reading a book. "He's the most cheerful invalid I ever saw," said the attorney general.

PURSES AGGREGATING $21,000 CON-TESTED FOR AT READVILLE.

2:07 Trot for $10,000 Won by Lord Derby-2:09 Pace Taken by Locanda-Results of Other Races.

READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 24.-Purses of $21,000 were offered for the events of the New England breeders' meet at the Readville track to-day. Lord Derby captured the $10,000 purse in the 2:07 trot, while the other big purse ($7,000) for the New England Futurity for foals of 1899 was won by The Rajah, sired by the Prince of India. B. F. Dutton's pacing team Dariel and Connor tried twice against their own team record of 2:10 and succeeded in lowering their former record a second and a quarter

There were but four entries in the 2:07 trot. Lord Derby drew the pole, with Chain Shot next, then Onward Silver and Some little difficulty was encountered in scoring the first heat, Lord Derby coming down slowly. Finally the udges threatened to fine Spear unless he drove Lord Derby down with the others, and a good start was made. Lord Derby broke just after starting and Anzella took the pole and led all around and finished first, Lord Derby just escaping the distance flag. In the second heat Chain Shot took the lead, with Anzella second and Lord Derby way behind at the half, but here Lord Derby began to assert his rights and rapidly overhauled the field, beating Cnain shot by a head. In the third and fourth heats Lord Derby outclassed the others and won easily.

The New England Futurity stake brought out six starters. The bay horse Direct View ran away from the others in the first heat and won in 2:161/2, but went up in the air in each of the two succeeding heats, which were both won by The Rajah. The best racing of the day occurred in the 2:09 pace, the game little horse Locanda winning after losing the second heat through a break. A field of nine horses started in the 2:24 trot. The Louisville mare Maxine won in straight heats. Summaries:

REQUEST FOR MARTIAL LAW.

Sheriff Beddall Wishes to Be Relieved of All Responsibility.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Sept. 24.-Asked tonight about a request made by Sheriff Beddall to place Schuylkill county under martial law, General Gobin answered: "I did not consider the proposition, am not considering it now and do not intend to consider it. I have nothing to do with it. It is entirely a question for the Governor to decide. To place this county under martial law would be a mighty big undertaking. It would mean the usurpation of all civil authority in every municipality. It is one of the most serious undertakings under a republican form of government and I doubt very much its constitutional-The sheriff wants to relieve himself of all responsibility, but the fact that the troops are here is no reason why he or any other civil officer should be relieved

It is likely there will be an important movement of the troops already in the field late to-night and that additional troops will be ordered out, but General Gobin says, as a precautionary measure, future movements will not be made public. says there has been so much dynamiting of bridges throughout the region that he considers it a part of wisdom to keep the knowledge of the movement of troop trains

REMARKABLE PERFORMANCE BY CANNON, A HARVARD STUDENT.

Rode a Mile in the Car Built by Himself in 1:05 1-4 and Five Miles in 6:05 Flat.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 24.-World's records were smashed at Narragansett Park to-day and the second annual race meeting of the Rhode Island Automobile Club was a great success despite execrable weather. George C. Cannon was the sensation of the day. He clinched his title to the steam championship of the world by driving the famous car of his own construction in 1:0514, the fastest mile ever made over the Narragansett Park track. The previous world's record was 1:07 2-5, held by Mr. Cannon himself. Then to complete his fame, the young Harvard student set a new world's record for steam cars for five miles at 6:05 flat, reducing the previous mark from 6:43 1-5, another record of his own. His time by quarters for his world's record was :161/2, :33, :491/2, 1:051/4.

Alexander Winton and his "Bullet" were held back by the strong wind, but they covered six miles in 6:39 3-5. Five miles were covered in 5:30 3-5 and the fastest single mile was 1:05 3-5. The slowest of Winton's first five miles was faster than any time of Fournier last year.

Percy Owen won the thirty-horsepower and the free for all gasoline classes and the sweepstakes.

The first race for motor bicycles, five miles, was won by George M. Hendee's Indian in 6:34 2-5. The open class for electric carriages, two miles, was won by Knight Neftel in a car of his own make. His time was 4:23. Then Alexander Winton and his Bullet, in the five-mile race, broke the track record the first time around in 1:06%. The second mile was in 1:05%, the third in 1:06%, the fourth in 1:06% and the fifth, the fastest, in 1:05 3-5. The heavy wind prevented him completing ten miles. Later he made another attempt, but was even less successful. A gasoline machine under 1,300 pounds went five miles in 7:42. The special race for touring cars was won by F. F. Tudor, jr., of Boston. Percy Owen, with Winton's Pup, made the five miles in 6:25% to win the gasoline class limited to thirty-horse power. He won the free-for-all five miles in 6:431/2 and the sweepstakes at the same distance in 6:14%. A special race for motor bicycles was won by John Ruel, five miles, in 6:50%.

WATKINS IS HOME AGAIN

BASEBALL MAN'S SMILE IS SOME-THING GOOD TO SEE.

He Has Added Another Pennant to His Belt and Is Happy-Reception for the Club.

Watty is back. Watty was accompanied by Charles Ruschaupt, and they by two very wide smiles. Watty's smile was the widest, the most meaning. This was because Watty's smile gets bigger the more annual pennants he hangs on his belt. Ruschaupt is young in the baseball pennant business, while Watty has been crying for them ever since he was a baby.

It is useless to mention him as Mr. W. H. Watkins. There are others of that ninth inning. Attendance, 1,002. Score: name, while there is only one Watty. The exuberance of his eye, the thrill of enthusiasm in his voice, and the general air of conquest that surrounds him, told eloquently that Watty was happy. He leaned back in his mahogany chair in the pennant office in the Majestic building and illuminated every part of the room with his sunny countenance. He was in a benign mood, loquacious and enthusiastic.

"It was a great chase," he said. "We have been three months reaching after the American Association pennant and have won by the most determined and consistent work. The credit of this victory belongs to the players of the Indianapolis team. No one may contest this. They never faltered. Many teams would have lost courage after they had lost thirteen games, any one of which by winning would have put them first. But the Indianapolis team didn't. It met every reverse with renewed confidence and even when we were thirty points behind it worked just as hard as it could. On this last trip, of course, the tension was great. The men went to the field eager to renew the conflict.

A PERSONAL MATTER.

"The success of the team became a personal matter with each one. There were happily no personal differences and the work was always frictionless. The team was a happy family. Before leaving on posed it agreed and bound themselves that they would permit nothing to distract them from their work. They kept their agreement like gentlemen and in doing it kept themselves always perpared for critical affairs. I have been interested in other pennant fights, have watched others of an exciting character, but they were nothing compared to this. If I could I would sign the same team this minute for next

"The team has been great in field work, in team work and in its pitching department. We always had a good pitcher in the box no matter who we played. "How about the three games played at St. Paul on the last day?"

"We found that Clymer, of Louisville, was depending on this trick to win the Colonels the pennant. If he won the three games and we lost the two we were expected to play, and the association directors gave the protested game at Louisville to the Colonels they would win the pennant by the fraction of a point. We had postponed games with St. Paul and could play three as well as Louisville could play three with Minneapolis. The rules require a club to play two games in one afternoon and more by agreement. St. Paul agreed, so we played three and won them. We were watching every point just as Louisville was and we beat them at their own game."

Mr. Watkins said it was too early to discuss next year. While he did not say so. it seems to be taken for granted that his appetite for pennants is insatiate and that along toward the tail end of winter his maw will be ready for another. Mr. Watty's specialty is not prophecies. It is performances. TEAM'S HOME COMING. The Indianapolis team will reach home Tuesday night of next week. On the return trip the team is stopping to play exhibition games, the entire portion of the Indianapolis team's financial interest being divided among the players.

Watkins says he is satisfied with the American Association during the past season. Indianapolis finished fifth in point of attendance, but had risen after Labor day from seventh place. This was not disappointing, because the city had no Sunday games, which were the blg end of the attendance elsewhere. The league as a whole was prosperous. At Milwaukee the American Association club lost a little money by reason of its conflict with the Western Association team of the same place. But the loss. Watkins thinks, is not enough to be considered. At Kansas City a similar fight caused another loss. In both cities the Western teams sustained big losses. A meeting will be held at the Elks' club rooms to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to arrange for a reception to the team on its return next Tuesday. Those most interested in the meeting are: J. W. Hale, C. B. Fawkner, James A. McCrossan, Emil Fertig, Ben Brown, Ed Smith, G. W. Kevers, Sol Munter, James D. Posey, T. J. Seaman, John McGregor, Ed Rauh, Mayor Bookwalter, Joseph Kealing, Bert Feibleman, Joseph Gasper, Judge Sullivan, Judge Carter, Paul H. Krauss, and Louis Newberger. Subscriptions will be received by Emil Fertig and others mentioned.

All the National League and two of the American League games scheduled for yesterday were postponed on account of rain.

WAR OF BIG LEAGUES PROBABLY WILL CONTINUE NEXT SEASON.

Possibility that the National May Be Increased to Twelve Clubs, with Indianapolis in It.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.-The national basethe last trip the fourteen men who com- ball magnates held a three-hour session at the League headquarters here to-night. After the meeting official announcement was made that the entire time had been taken up in a discussion of the "situation in general," and that no action had been taken that could be made public.

> These magnates went into session: John T. Brush, chairman of the executive committee; President Andrew Freedman and Fred Knowles, New York; A. H. Soden, Boston; Col. John I. Rogers and A. J. Reach, Philadelphia; Charles Ebbitts, Ned Hanlon and Harry Von Der Horst, Brooklyn; Max Fleishman and August Herman, Cincinnati; James Hart, Chicago, and Harry Pulliam and Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburg

While it was officially announced that no action had been taken by the magnates, it was admitted that the proposition of peace or war with the American League had been talked of, and that a large majority of the magnates favored war to the end. At the conclusion of the conference John T. Brush was asked if any peace overtures had been discussed. He answered: "No sincere offers of peace have come from the other side, and you may be sure that the National League is not taking the initiative. No; peace is out of the question as things stand at present.' "Have there been any informal offers of peace from the League?" was asked.

"Yes; certain outsiders have approached certain League members, but we are not listening to offers of that kind." It was intimated to-night that the magnates are seriously considering the advisability of again increasing the circuit to twelve clubs, taking in Baltimore and Washington in the East and two in the West, but whether Louisville, Cleveland, Indianapolis or Detroit has not been de-

The Tribune will say to-morrow: "Ban Johnson, president of the American organization was here yesterday (Wednesday) in consultation with certain people, but he did not seek publicity, and traveled byways not generally frequented by baseball enthusiasts. Mr. Johnson has been confi dential with few people in this city, according to his friends, preferring to accomplish his object of securing grounds here before saying anything for publication. Johnson and his friends have been looking over two plots of ground in this district, one on Manhattan island and the other in the borough of Bronx. Ban Johnson could not be found, nor could any of his friends to discuss the location of the Club owners of the National League, when seen, admitted that they were dubious about the intention of the American League. James A. Hart, president of the Chicago club, said that if the American League decided to locate in this city he did not see how his organization was going to prevent it.

LONDON, Sept. 24.-L. H. Greig, a bookkeeper in the London offices of the Carnegie Steel Company, who was remanded on Friday last on the charge of forging checks amounting to $9,500, purporting to have been signed by Col. Millard Hunsicker, chairman of the nickel corporation, was again remanded to-day after a brief hearing. Counsel for the prosecution said that probably others were implicated in the case. which promised to develop largely. Their information disclosed that not only had forgeries been committed, but embezzlement and theft of correspondence from Pittsburg to the Carnegie Company. Counsel handed in forged checks for $9,000 and he declared, kept up a lavish establishment at Kingston-on-the-Thames, and steps were being taken to prevent the removal of its handsome furniture. Counsel also handed the magistrate a letter from a prisoner in Exeter jail, which the magistrate said threw quite a new light on the case. Counsel added that an examination of the books showed not only that Greig's forgeries were very large amounts, but there had been an extensive faisification of the books. The prisoner had apparently been carrying on large businesses. At various addresses in the city the police have seized a mass of documents. They also discovered that chloride of lime had been used in erasing names from checks. Colonel Hunsicker told a representative of the Associated Press subsequently that some of the money had been recovered, but
